

Letters to the Editor

Support for golf tournament was appreciated

In the game of baseball there are runs and hits, but hopefully no errors. Although the Gloversville Husky Booster Club sent thank-you letters to our sponsors, it would be an "error" if we did not acknowledge to our community the fine sponsors who donated to make our fourth annual golf tournament a great success. Thus, we would like to take this opportunity to thank the following sponsors, who time and time again contribute not only to our organization, but also to many others in our community:

Al's Pizzeria, Andromeda Leather, Arnie's, Aries Chemical, Avon, Beacon Wholesale, Big Mike's, Bona's Discount Beverage, Castiglione's Jewelers, Cranesville Block, Dave's Auto, Dean's Dogs, Delaney Construction, Derrico & Farhart Agency, Doc's Remedy Inn, Dunkin' Donuts, Fireside Restaurant, Frank's Barber Shop, First Source Worldwide, Fulton County Bookstore, Harold's, H&P Motors, Hawkins, Fabrics, Horning Excavation, House of Pizza, Italian Bistro, JDM Specialty Chemicals, J Fine Jewelers, Jones & Naudin, Kingsboro Golf Course, Dottie and Mike LaPorta, Leonzo's, Mama Karen's, Metro West Sales Co. Inc., Mike's Interior Decorations, Naifs, Nethaway's, New York Lunch, Tony Otuso, Pizza Joint, Post Net, Railyard, Robert Hoy Agency, Romano's, Rose Buick, Semione's Pro Cleaning, Shrader & Shrader, Sievert's, Smith Barney, Stanyon Financial Services, Tegeo's.

Thank you again and we look forward to seeing everyone in the spring when the Huskies take the field.

JIM ROBARE

and the Gloversville Baseball Booster Club

No one likes to see change

In response to the Gloversville/Johnstown football game, first let me apologize for the lack of understanding for the changes. No one likes to see traditions change. When we're not a resident any longer, we see how much Gloversville has changed, we just don't know why. I have noticed and complained that Gloversville isn't what it used to be. I am one of those who left the area and come back to visit the family. I need to accept that Gloversville is not what it used to be when I lived there. After hearing and listening to those who still reside in Gloversville, we relocators need to take a step back and let the people of Gloversville speak up as to what needs to be done for the players. So maybe a crossover game or non-conference game is the way to go. Whatever decision is made, I'll stay on the sidelines. Now unless any of us relocators are planning on returning to Gloversville, I guess we should let those trying to make a difference do what's good for the players. I'm sure that's their intentions.

LYNN COLLINS

New Port Richey, Fla.

Thanks for help with effort

On behalf of the Johnstown Council of Churches, I want to thank everyone who helped make the Nov. 11 Boy Scout Food Drive such a success. The generosity of the good people of Johnstown once again was evident by the enormous quantity of food that was collected. To date, 2,082 items have been collected.

We also want to thank the members of Boy Scouts Troops 69, 104 and 112 plus the religious education students of the Johnstown Reformed Church for helping pick up the food. You did a magnificent job canvassing the city and picking up the food.

A special thank you goes to the members of the Johnstown High School Key Club for helping us sort and serve the items. Your help was greatly appreciated by the volunteers of the Food Pantry. Due to the cooperative effort of so many people, the Johnstown Food Pantry will be able to assist the needy in our area for the coming months. Thank you to all who helped make this food drive such a success.

ELIZABETH CLEARY

Johnstown Food Pantry Coordinator

Johnstown

Check out new Flame CD

If you want to hear beautiful holiday songs, go to Lexington Center and buy Flame's new holiday compact disc. It is absolutely the best I have ever heard. Buy it — you will agree with me.

HELEN C. MOORE

Johnstown