

12/17/07

Holiday glow

The Leader-Herald/Bill Trojan

The Fulton County Regional Chamber of Commerce & Industry building and Gloversville's Four Corners are lit up for the holidays in this photo taken earlier this month.

New Flame holiday CD on sale

JOHNSTOWN — The Lexington Center-based band Flame's "Holiday Classics" album was released in November and has sold more than 250 copies, according to a news release from Lexington.

The CD will be available for sale throughout the year and for future holiday seasons.

It also is available via the Web at www.flametheband.com, and copies can be purchased at Lexington locations, Ruby & Quiri and Something Special.

For more information or phone orders, call 762-0024.

Flame began in 2003 and has performed more than 90 times a year across the Northeast.

The band is hired for events including conventions, conferences, school functions, dances and private parties.

Gift Certificates

That say:

"Merry Christmas With Love!"

Rte. 30N, Mayfield, 661-7711

